When you were born there was something to be said, hey, where's the brunette?

We've got a redhead.

It's not a boy, but that's okay. A girl is really for what your mother prayed.

You were so tiny, what a dandy. So your parents decided to call you Andie (Andrea).

What a fine young lady you've become, you're like a rainbow, stars and sun.

And you've been such a joy for 17 years. Now you're graduating; here come the tears.

But as you move on to another chapter, you'll have our love and we'll enjoy your laughter.

We love you Andie!

As each year passes, you take more steps and some of these will eventually lead you away from me but always remember that my hand and my heart are forever here for you.
Torey, you have grown up to be a wonderful woman that I know will succeed in anything you put your mind to. You are strong and a fighter and I know you will survive in this world. This is the girl we always dreamed about. Our surprise since we knew she was coming, our happiness was "the biggest."

So, she came, pretty, calm, healthy and intelligent.

She grows, always obedient, studious, a dreamer, saying that she wants to be a doctor. And then, she wanted to do an exchange program and she's successful. She's very dedicated, affectionate and we know that her dreams will come true because she "runs" for what she wants.

We're thankful to God for her and our family life. God bless you, beloved daughter.

Alanna Chanas

Sissy! It doesn't seem like it has been that long ago when you came home from kindergarden and asked, "How much does it cost to change my name?" No one at school could pronounce it right.

Stephanie Henderson

Stephie,
I can't believe it's your senior year, it seems like only yesterday you were starting kindergarten. You've grown into one of the sweetest and kindest people I know and your Dad and I are very proud of the young woman you have become. You've brought more joy to our lives than words can express. Your name means, "crowned one" and you are truly our Lil' princess. Continue to share that contagious smile and always be true to yourself.

Holly Johnson

Holly,
I can't tell you how much it means to me to have the kind of relationship we do, that you value my opinion and listen to my advise.
You're such a loving daughter and sister, you bring so much joy to all that have the pleasure of meeting you.
You are as beautiful on the inside as you are on the outside.
I'll "Always," be proud to say,
"That's My Baby Girl!"
I'll end the way you "always" do.

"I LOVE YOU!"
Mom

Holly Johnson

Growing a garden and raising a daughter both require love and nurturing.
But there comes a day when you must simply let go and have faith.
Later when you are surrounded by flowers and discover that the child you raised and cared for has blossomed into a loving and intelligent young woman.
All that's left to do is be grateful and rejoice in the Gift you have received from God.
Holly, You Have Always Been A Wonderful Blessing To Our Family.
"I Love You!"
Mom

Sisters

There's a familiarity in our smiles,
And a sweetness in the things we say,
We can tell a story with just a glance,
And that's much more than just play.

At different times you can be everything from a friend to a mother.
Having such a wonderful sister makes us so thankful
we didn't get a baby brother.

We've laughed until we've cried, we've shed each other's tears.
We are sisters, loving sisters, growing closer through the years.

Truly,
May all your blessings increase. We are so proud of you as my sisters can possibly be. You're our blessing from above and proof that a sister is the best friend a person could ever have.

We love you, Baby Girl!
Hannah and Heidi Johnson

Abstract Self-Portraits

The students in Mrs. Phillip's art classes drew their own faces and created an abstract design on top of the faces. Then they chose a color scheme to use within the abstract design. Hoody Who!

Boys Room Vs.

Teenage boy's rooms are usually somewhat different than teenage girl's rooms. They aren't necessarily as clean and neat and they use more colors like blue, green and brown--like dirt. Boys are into more things like music, weight lifting, and playing the guitar.

Girls Room

Teenage girls rooms tend to be much more neatly organized than boys. Of course, there are some messy factors like clothes everywhere that are just part of teenager life. Girl's rooms tend to be much more colorful. Colors like pink, purple and red and trendy this year.

THROUGH OUR EYES

Lincoln is changing, inside and out as the complete remodeling of our building begins.

The school year started out with a bang, in fact, the banging went on all day as phase 1 and 2 of the remodeling project went on throughout the day.

Crews marched over every inch of the roof as they pulled, scraped and pried the old roof off and replaced it with a watertight new roof.

The first students to enter Abraham Lincoln High School were welcomed to a brand new school in September 1923. That was eighty-one years ago. Think for a moment of all the students who have been welcomed to Lincoln over the years up to the moment that you entered the Lincoln Auditorium for Freshman Orientation on Wednesday, August 22, 2001 at 9:00 a.m. The overhead projector displayed a big WELCOME CLASS OF 2005 message on the stage screen. A blank diploma was projected on the screen for you to imagine your name on the line certifying that you completed (or will complete) the requirements for graduation from Abraham Lincoln High School. The "GOAL" was set before you and the way to achieve it was available at Lincoln. The excitement of starting high school was in the air as Senior Whitney Ross greeted you and talked about the many experiences that awaited you during your four years at Lincoln. You were encouraged to get involved in activities and clubs. You were encouraged to keep your attendance and grades up to insure the best possible transcript record for employers, colleges, and universities. The road ahead would not be without problems, but a support system of parents, teachers, counselors, and coaches was in place to catch and redirect you should you stumble along the way. And what a four years it has been!

This 2005 yearbook will serve as a record of the events of your senior year. Remember yourself as a freshman, then as a sophomore, and as a junior. No two of you were exactly alike when you started and none of you stayed exactly the same as you experienced four years of academics and activities at Lincoln. You each brought something special to the process of high school. You "stepped forward" and took on the responsibility and the challenge of preparing yourself for graduation day. Now, you are joining the graduates before you, who as Alumni have distinguished themselves in their chosen fields, raised families, and look back fondly on their formative years at Lincoln. We congratulate the Class of 2005 and wish you the best in the years to come. As Alumni, you are welcome to visit the building to see the results of the renovation and remodeling work scheduled for completion in the summer of 2008. It has been a privilege to serve as your Principal and to be associated with each of you.

"I really like listening to my CDs and getting my homework done during the down time. I love playing my trombone and hanging out with friends too!"

Cafeteria Caper

Court T.V. at Lincoln

Court TV came to Lincoln as a part of their "Forensics in the Classroom" program. 25 sophmores from Mrs. Wilson's classes took part in the country's first forensics curriculum available online sponsored by Mediacom. There was a crime scene set up in the cafeteria, complete with blood, a murder weapon and a cut gas line. An investigator named Jeff Shannon came in to teach the students how to properly handle a crime scene. Also an Identification Technician named Rex Sparks came to show the students how to take finger prints and how to handle the evidence. Rex was what we would call a CSI. This ended up being a great experience for everyone involved.

Katie Peterson will receive a copy of each Star Wars movie I own, being the only communist not to have seen them. And to Kurt Howe, Kelly Wilson, and Shane Hammond I leave behind Pure Gratitude. I will Caitlin Gill my ability to find wonderful clothes at the Salvation Army. I will Pat Smith my awesome driving skills, along with the ability to not get in an accident with these skills. Finally, I will Ryan Reeves the ability to argue with anyone and win. I, IVY MILLER, will Sammi and Smitty, and all underclassmen, my ability to make it through, no matter how hard, and my ability to find the joy in each and every day. I, LINDSI THACKER, will my adored captain's position of Sound Attraction to who ever can handle it. Remember, it's stressful, but rewarding. I also will my Choir chair to Jana Rector, may you treat it well. I will all the love I have for the Choir Department to all the Show Choir members, may you be fantastic next year. To Mr. Walag, I will my ability to handle stressful situations and my organizational skills, may you need them in years to come. I will miss you all. I love you. Also, to the captains next year, take care of my girls! I, RACHEL MITCHELL, will Daniela Leo my amazing 3-point shooting ability and "great leadership" as a captain. To Nick Tillinghast I will my inability to come to school everyday, you better carry it on. And to Heather O'Donnell, I will my badunkadunk, keep it nice! # RAILMEN

Meet the Seniors

COACH WILLIAMSON:

"In this group you learn much more than how to dance. You learn about yourself and how to help others. We focus on becoming better people in society and becoming a better "man". But most importantly, we learn about respect. Respect for ourselves and others. Dancing is the bonus. We ride together, we die together, we eat together, RAILMEN FOR LIFE!"

CAPTAIN JUSTIN SMITH:

"Never forget why you chose to be in the group. We all are strong individuals, don't let anyone tell you otherwise. Continue to respect everyone and to gain respect for yourself and the group. Remember those who have helped you grow and let yourself continue to grow and succeed!"

DAVID ABBOTT:

IF I have learned anything throughout these past three years with the group it would be that I learned to not let the little things bug me and to go out there and make the best of it!

Colorful

It was a

colorful
year in room 28.

Room 28 was a whirl of activity, some of it even productive. Twenty six students worked on two separate publications, all while keeping the Rail Cafe in business.

Many hours were spent in the classroom and outside of school shooting and uploading pictures, designing layouts and creating them on the website.

Susan Gilmer edited the image library and layouts. She was responsible for creating the index. Erin Crawford was responsible for the entire senior section and many other layouts. Nicole Seid designed the cover. Nicole Tomlinson was responsible for several sections in addition to many layouts.

Thanks to the staff who dedicated many hours to produce Lincoln's first color yearbook.

A new year. An entirely new yearbook.

The 2004-2005 yearbook is 240 pages long. It was printed on 100 pound gloss paper at the Josten's printing plant in Visalia, California.

The cover is a True Life high gloss application with student generated photography and graphics. The entire cover was laminated with a glossy finish.

The entire yearbook was created on the Josten's Yearbook Avenue website using a variety of computers from I-Macs, G-3's to Dells. Thanks to Mr. Zaugg for keeping us in business.

Photos were shot with two Olympus digital cameras, both 1/c-5050 zooms. Thanks to Katie Seid for taking many yearbook photos.
